Moods at B.S.H.S.

No one mood dominates Bellevue Senior High School. The moods and the patterns of life move from pre-school peace to home-room hustle. The pace steps up even faster during the academic required and elective courses. The 557 students of Bellevue find their school schedules filled with work but with time provided for relaxation and laughter. Friendships flourish and though academic schedules are usually crowded, the knowledge provided through actual experience in the vocational shops and the lab courses far outweigh the work involved. Long hours are invested in studying, but many hours are devoted to rounding out students life by extracurricular activities.

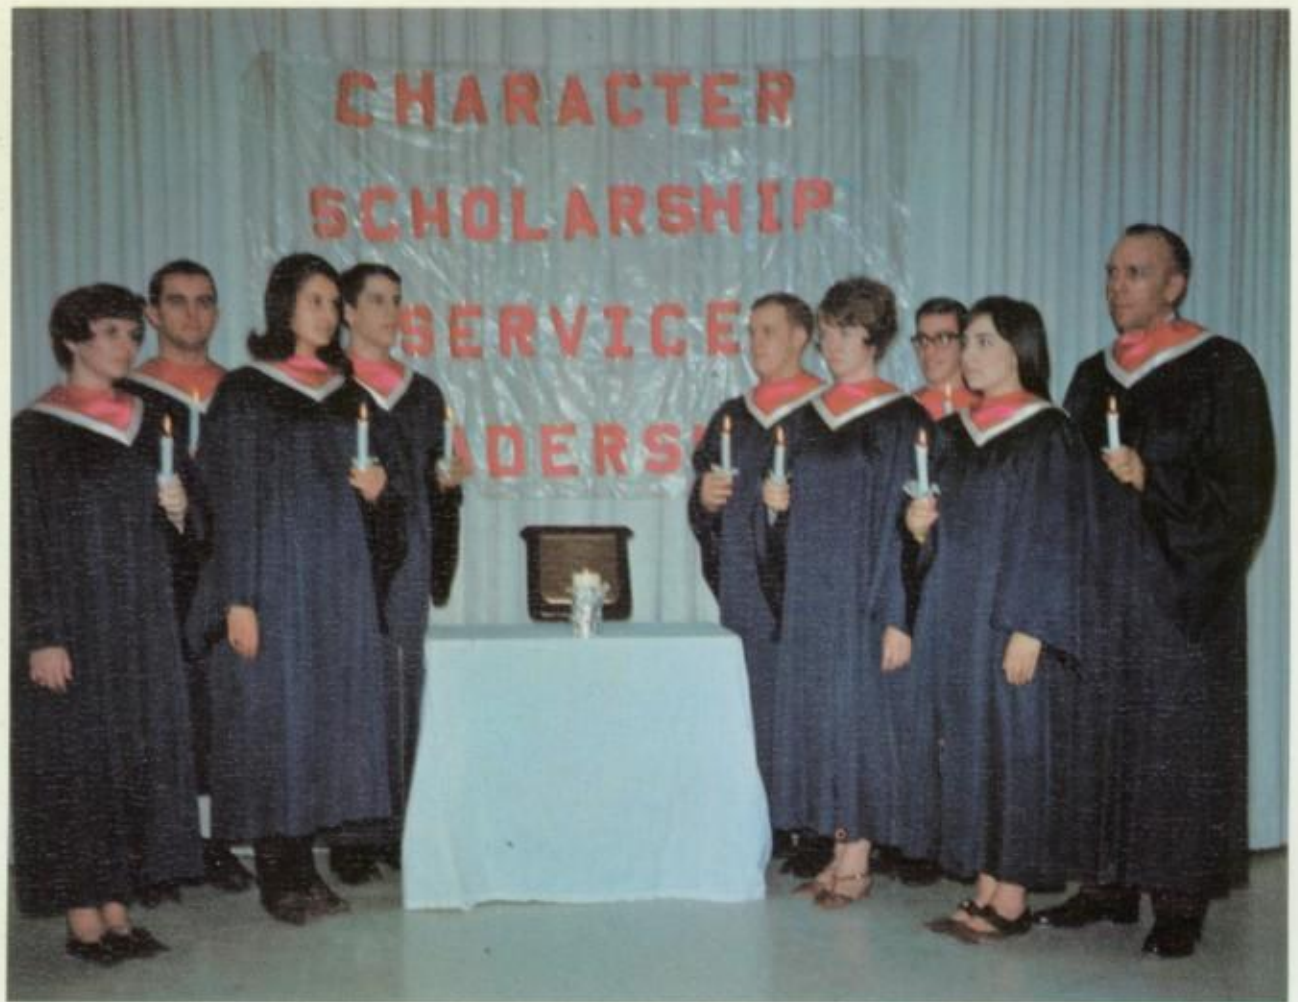

We Help Others and Others Help Us

Bellevue students have the privilege of being allowed to contribute to the school welfare. Through business courses, selected students are given actual office experience which will serve them greatly in future years. Along the same vein, acting experience gives vent to students' dramatic aspirations. These experiences also provide a much deeper meaning in that they broaden character by allowing the student opportunity to project himself and to co-operate with faculty and with his peers. The choir serves much the same function and provides a goal, and later, the sense of a job well done. Student Council furnishes avenues of communication between directing personnel and the student body and also provides services for the community.

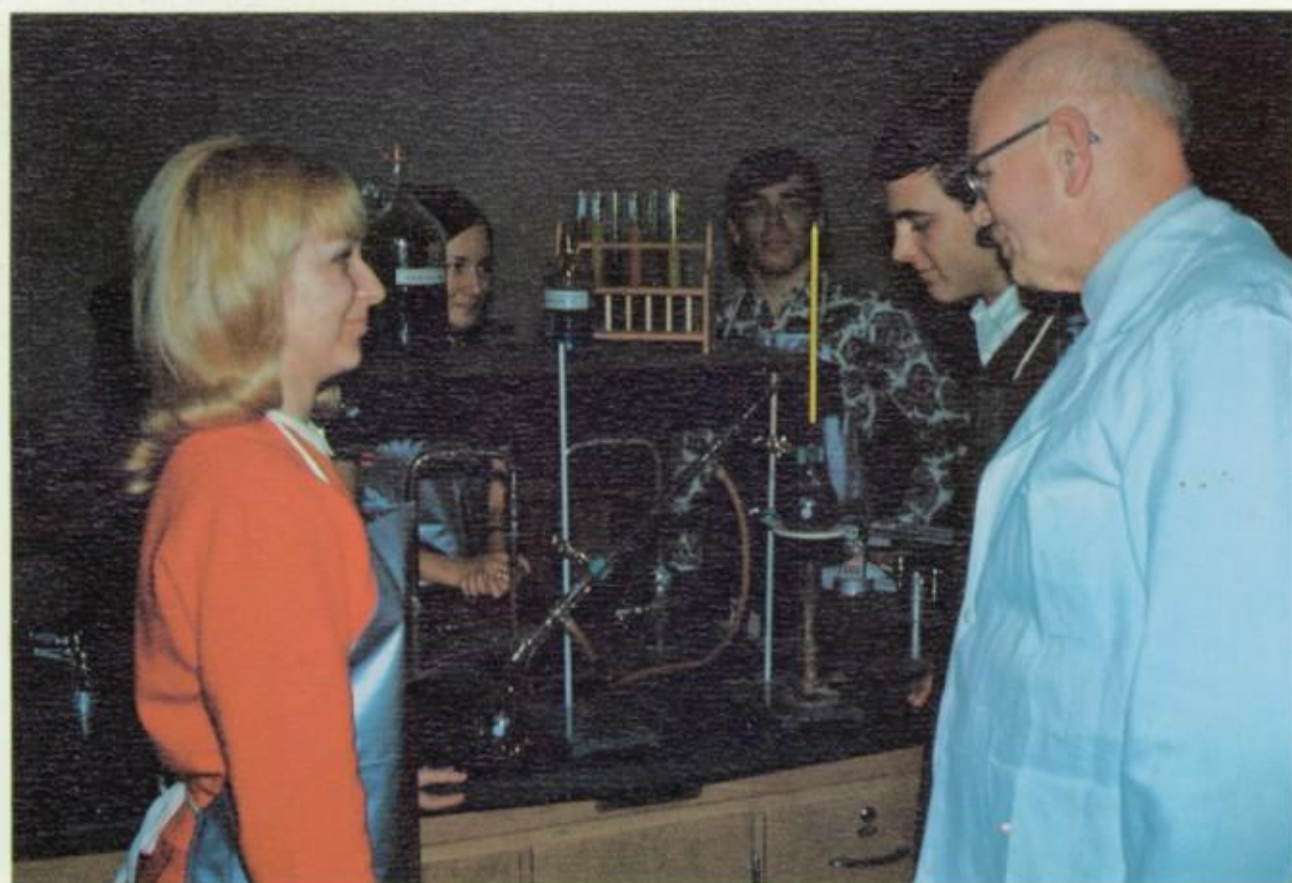

Character, Service Scholarship, and Leadership

Character, leadership, scholarship, and service. These four words are the by-words of the National Honor Society. But, to the members of Bellevue Senior High, they signify the high ideals and goals of life which the school tries to instill in its young people. Active leadership in Bellevue High is encouraged through student government and by setting examples for the others of the school. The Council members encourage the building of strong character. Through books and through experimentation, Bellevue students endeavor to set and later to attain their own goals.

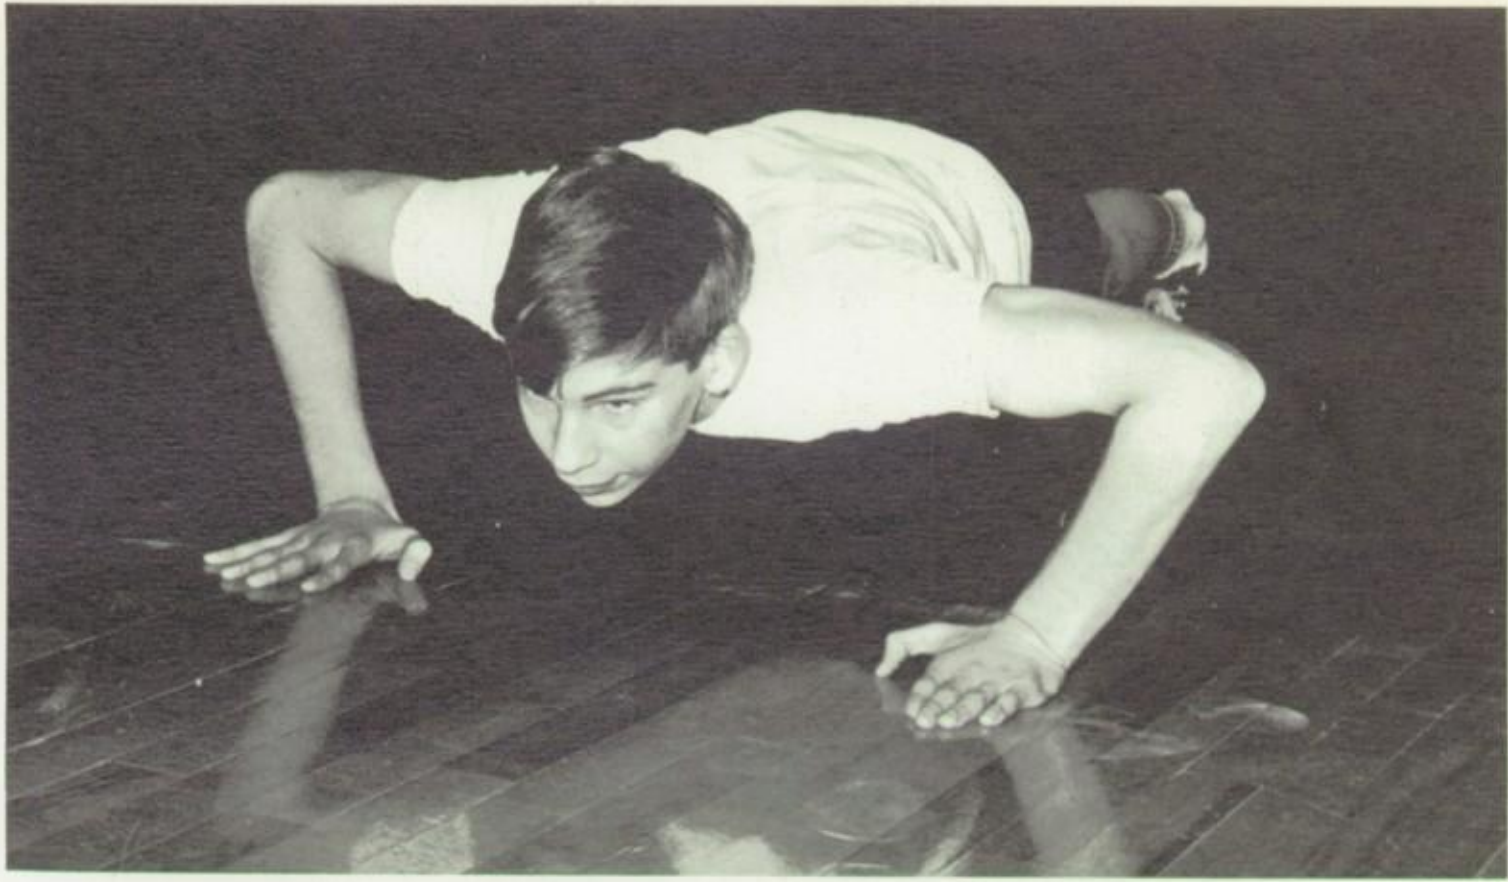

Students Achieve Through Experience and Expression

At Bellevue Senior High School, students are given a chance to learn through their own experience. Outside readings are often assigned and through research or experimentation students search for their answers. Physical development is also stressed at Bellevue. Through required physical education courses, muscles as well as bodies are exercised and helped to grow. Learning through experience is a part of many classes. In lab and vocational classes, pupils have a chance to put their new knowledge and skill to good use. In instrumental classes a student has many good chances to express himself through his hobby. The long hours of preparation finally seem worthwhile during the moments of a well-received concert. The personal satisfaction of attaining a goal, whether it be finishing an assigned book or memorizing a new piece of music, all point toward building the self-esteem of each individual student.

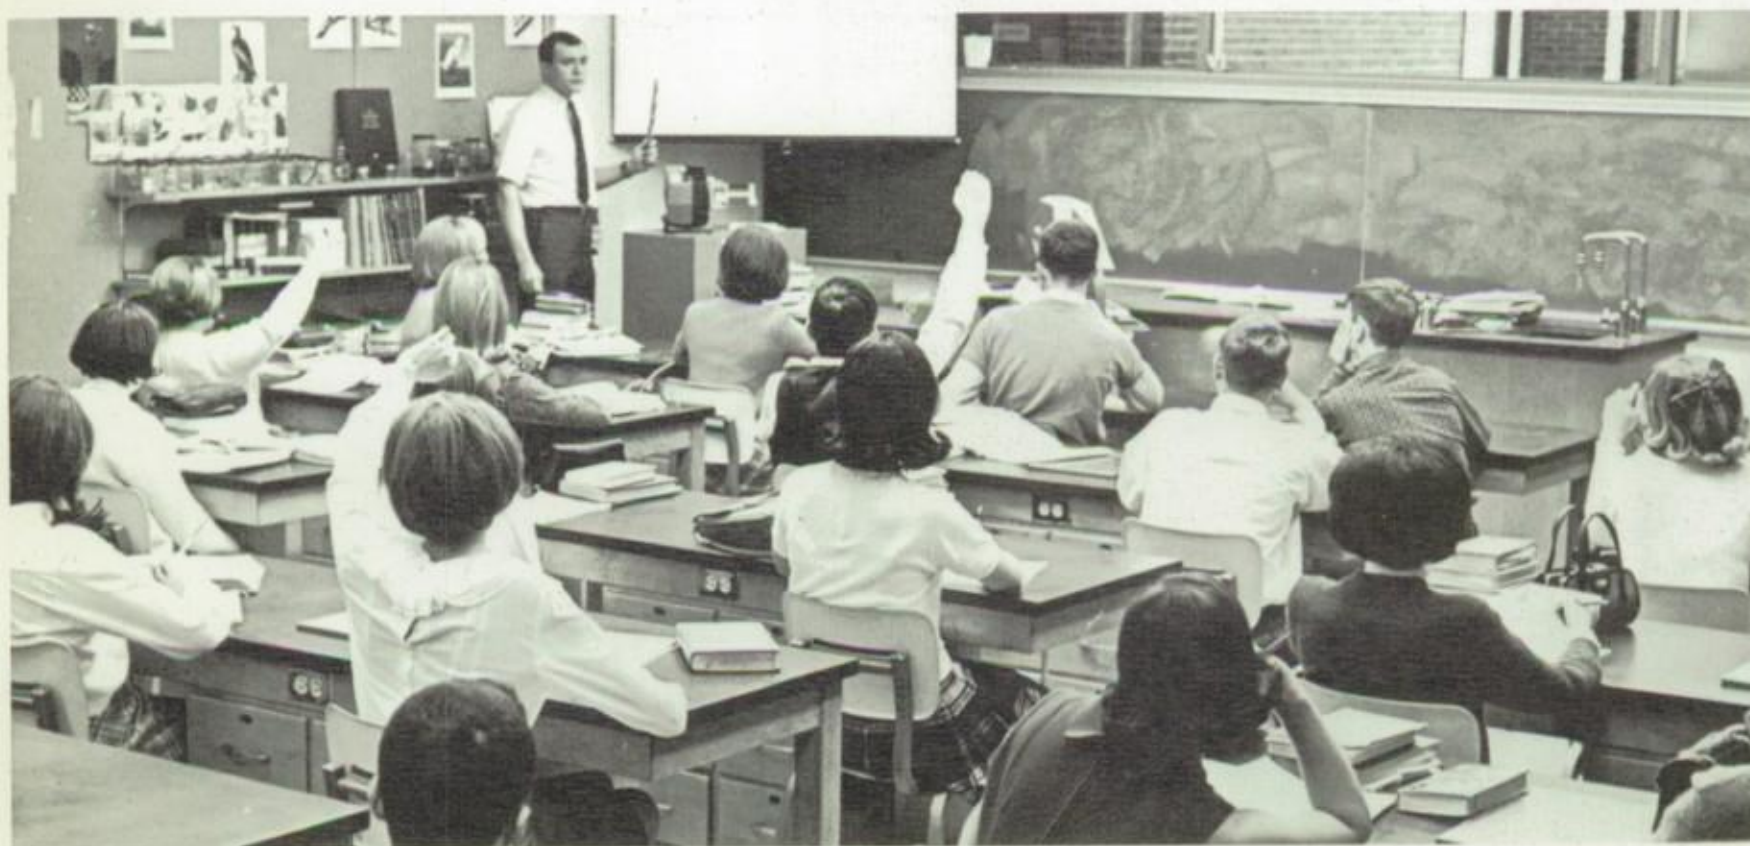

Competitive Sports Teach Victory . . . or Defeat

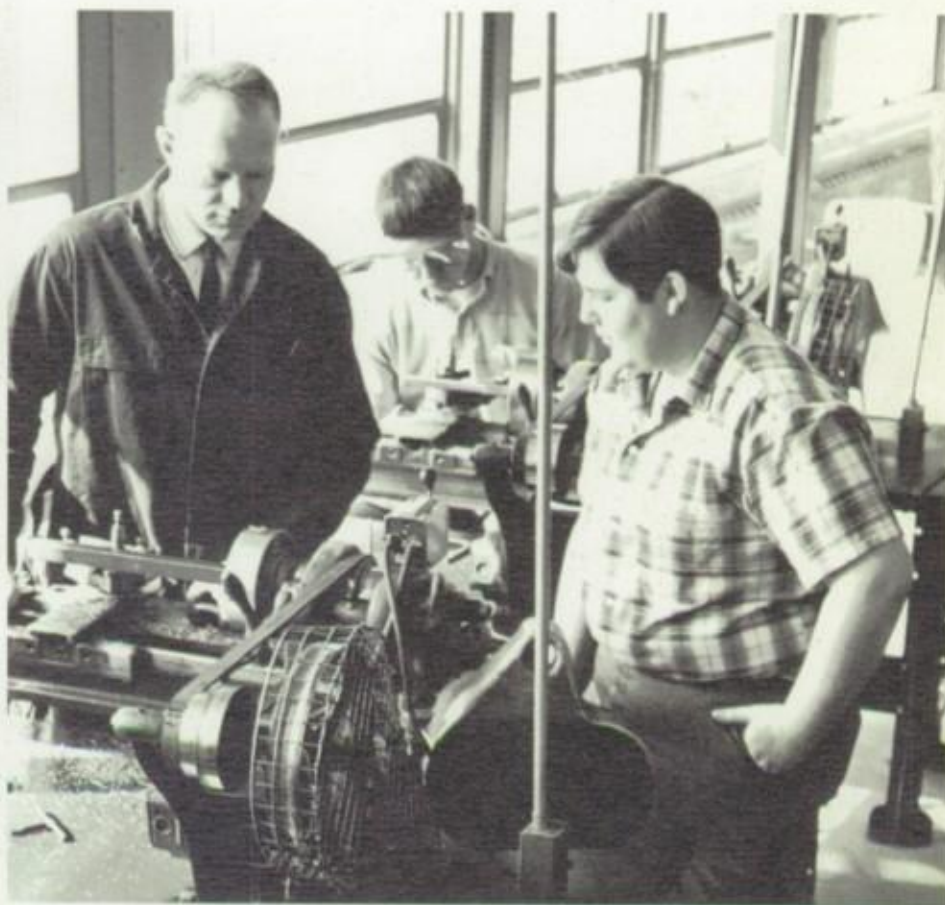

Sportsmanship is stressed at B.S.H.S. The old addict, "It isn't whether you win or lose but how you play the game that counts," might have been written solely for Bellevue High. Team sports have been stressed at Bellevue for many years. Sports such as basketball, football, and wrestling have full school followings and are actively supported. This, besides providing recreation, strengthens school spirit and loyalty. Team sports in intramurals also provide lessons in sportsmanship and team work. Again, though much is said about the virtues of a winning team, Bellevue can be proud of her teams whether they win or lose. Sportsmanship needs clean-playing, hard-fighting, never-say-die participants—and those are the kind of players Bellevue has.

Underclassmen Achieve Upperclass Status Through Hard Work

The students at Bellevue Senior High School are as one when it comes to school loyalty or school spirit. But, much friendly competition is evidenced between the three respective classes which are represented at the school. Each year, underclassmen enter the school and by following the examples set by the Seniors, soon become a credit to Bellevue. They are inducted into the serious business of school by their realization that all too soon they are going to be a part of today's world. They set for themselves the same goal that the upperclassmen set for themselves. The Sophomores and Juniors use their high school years to learn through their own experience those things which will benefit them in later life. During these years, they begin to take tests which will enter upon their permanent record and influence the courses they will take in college. They use their underclassmen years to learn skills which will serve them in later years. Whether this skill be learning the fundamental rules for writing term papers or whether it be discovering how a motor is put together, one can be sure that the underclassmen of today will make good leaders for tomorrow.

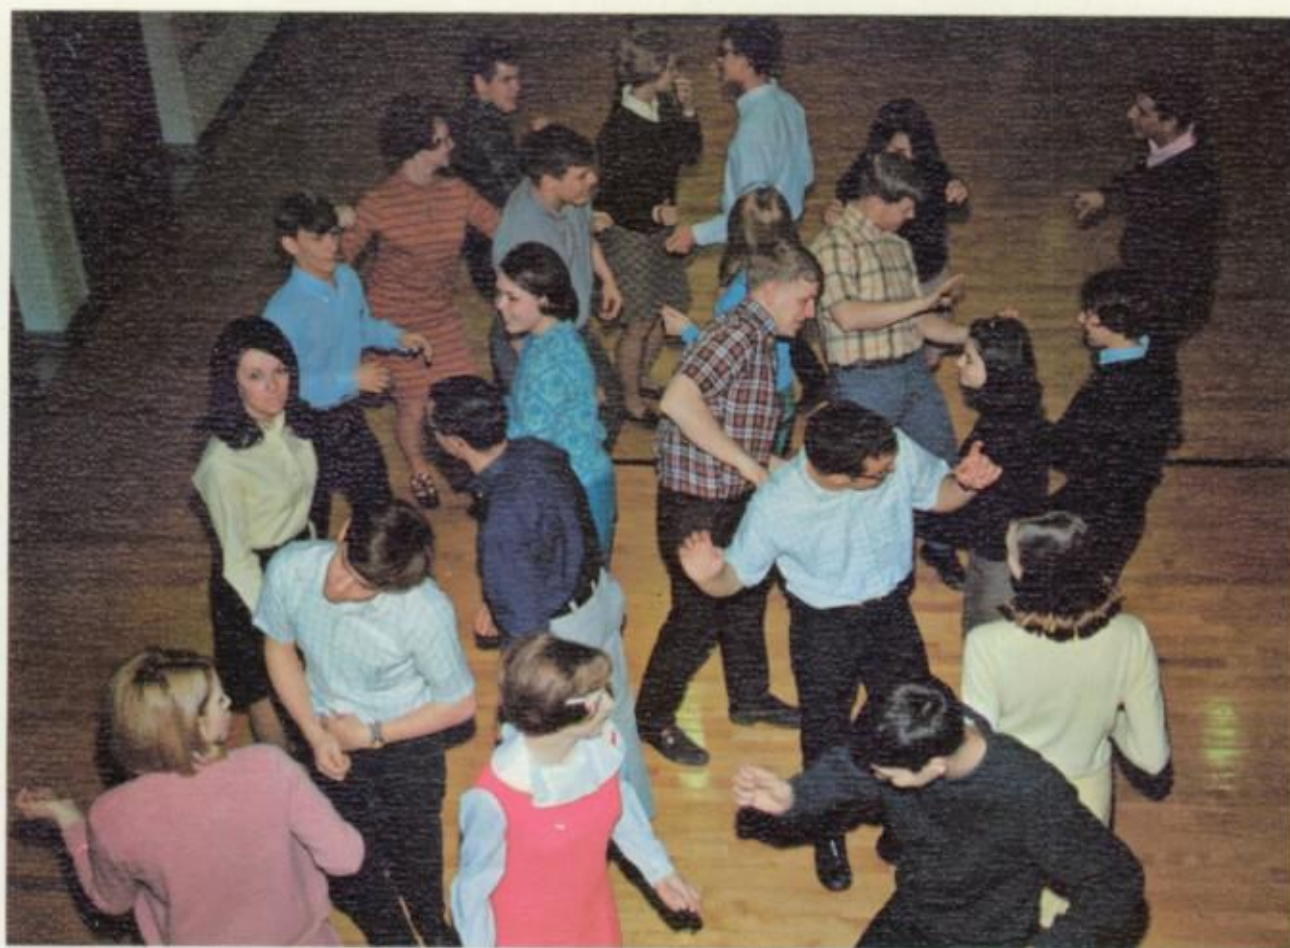

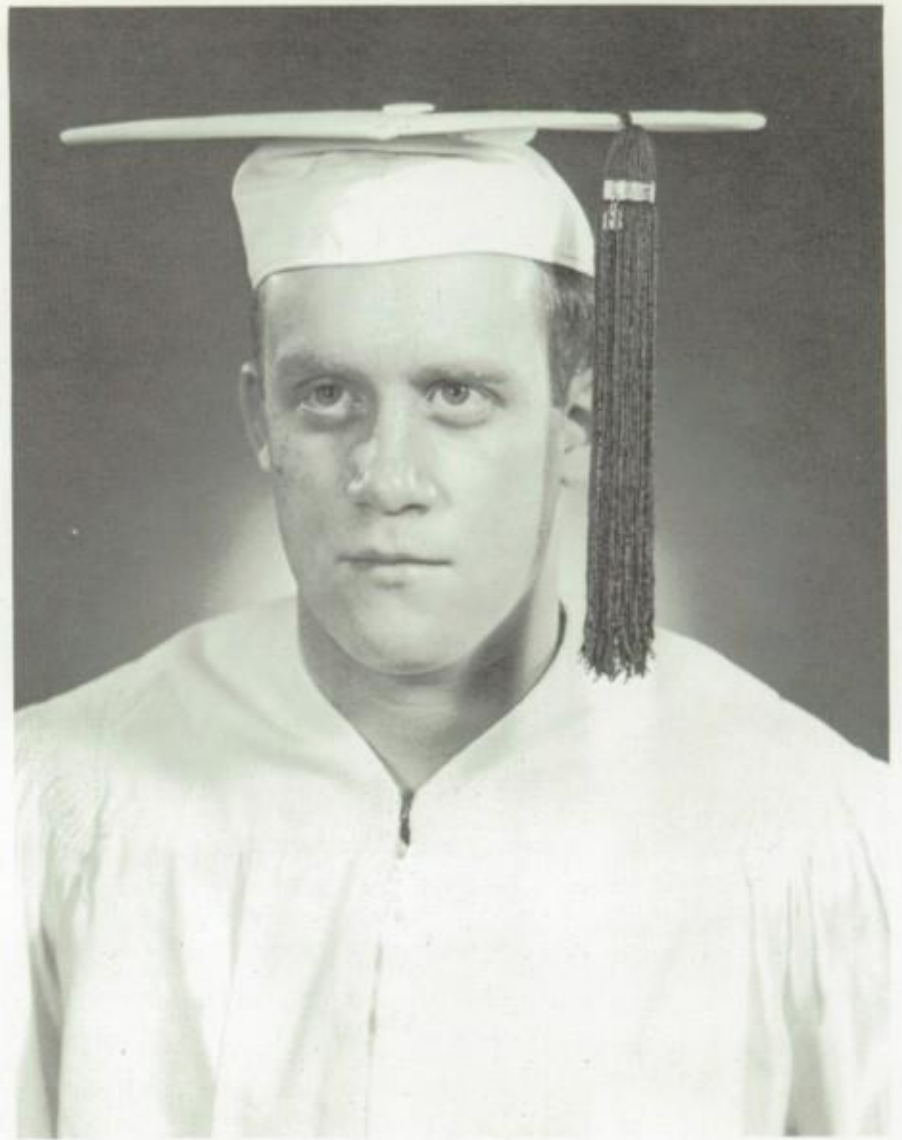

Seniors Set the B.S.H.S. Pace

Leaders are needed in every school; and at B.S.H.S., the Seniors are traditionally the pace-setters. First and foremost, the Senior class helps to uphold scholastic standards of the school. Cram sessions with friends often help to make the needed study sessions lighter. Seniors also set the pace for recreation, whether it be a formal dance with royalty or merely an after-game dance. Moving again to school, Seniors set the pace for school loyalty with the Senior cheer. Action is the word to describe the Seniors. Whether they're patronizing a private party or cramming for exams, the Seniors know how to keep life interesting for themselves and for their younger followers. They do it by setting a lively pace—the right pace at Bellevue.

Seniors Look Forward to Graduation Day

The primary goal for all high school students is to receive their diploma. For twelve years, dreams have centered on the trip to come—the trip across the stage to accept that long worked for diploma. Now, it is time for one more class to achieve their dreams. Once more, they will remove all traces of themselves and leave only memories of themselves as guidance and inspiration for their successors. The Senior year is a culmination of many things. Nostalgia strikes when a Senior finally realizes that this is his last pep assembly, last game, last time to be with his friends as a class. The Senior year is a year made to be remembered; "Memories are made of these."

Class Song
by Terri Gilbert

TUNE: "WITHOUT A SONG"

*The time has come when we must say good-bye,
We'll always cherish our days at Bellevue High,
The friends we've made, we'll remember all our days,
As years go by.*

*The knowledge we've gained can never be replaced,
It will see us through the world's entangled maze,
We may stumble a bit, but we will never forget,
As years go by.*

*We'll have our moments of joy
And moments of tears
Through the coming years,
But we'll get along
Because we're the strong Class of '68!*

*And now with our tears we say our last adieu,
Dear Alma Mater to you we'll always be true,
The goals you've set high we will never let die,
As years go by.*

In Memoriam

Thomas G. Idle

*They who'd just begun to live and dream and know the thrill of living life.
When death with his swift razor knife cut short their glistening threads of life.
And so when we reach 'cross the years and span the breach of sorrow's tears,
We feel the warmth within us swell,
the warmth, their warmth, that is to tell
That each loved life, and God as will.*

As the evening shadows lengthened on June 5, the Class of '68 entered the new stadium to break tradition by having an outdoor commencement.

“The Past Is Gone,
Tomorrow Is Forever.”

Seniors received their diplomas from President of the Board, Mr. Todd, and were congratulated by Superintendent Smith.

Commencement speaker was Dr. Richard M. Mall.

FACULTY

Bellevue Board Aids Schools

The Bellevue Board of Education stays mostly in the background during the school year. This fact does not do justice to the Board's work in school matters. The school turns to the Board for guidance in policies involving elementary as well as high school problems. Mr. Harold Todd headed the Board this year as President. Some of the matters that passed before the Board were assisting the construction of the Bellevue Athletic Club by selling some land which it owned, erecting the lights and fencing at the field, and taking care of the maintenance of the field and track. Another important matter was the purchasing of new offices for the Board and for the school offices. Probably the most important matter was that of the consolidation of Bellevue with Lyme, York, and Thompson Schools.

Superintendent Robert Smith headed many important activities for Bellevue Schools this year. He is in charge of financial problems, arranging the Federal programs, and of hiring certified personnel. Mr. Smith is aided by Mr. Richard Faulkner who is the administrative assistant. Mr. Faulkner is in charge of the transportation for school activities and is also concerned with the maintenance of schools and with hiring the non-certified personnel.

Mr. Robert Regula
Principal

Administrative Team Guides Student Body

Mr. Robert Regula headed the administrative system for Bellevue Senior High this year. He held the title of principal for the ninth consecutive year here at Bellevue. His decisions usually involve the policy of the schools and effect the student body which it encompasses. Mr. Regula was assisted in his duties during the first semester by Mr. Burnell Hoffman. After the consolidation of the area schools with Bellevue, Mr. Lowell Shaffer took over the duties of assistant principal. His duties concerned those which weren't involved with school policy. Guidance counselor for the school was Mr. David Cress. Though it was Mr. Cress who primarily shouldered the responsibilities of counseling, the other three men also counseled students. Together, they guided the seniors in their choice of college or vocation, and helped the sophomores and juniors to decide upon their future courses of study. The welfare of the students and of their future years depends greatly upon these men.

Speech, English Help Communication

English, one of the most essential subjects taught today, is in the hands of Mrs. Ann Miller, Mr. Paul Sackett, Mr. Dennis Gates, and Mr. Wally Grimm.

Mr. Sackett teaches the Sophomores grammar, spelling, and vocabulary. Appreciation in English Literature is also stressed. Mr. Sackett also instructs the Journalism class and produces the Dial.

English III, taught by Mrs. Miller, is devoted to our American Literature. The Juniors also work to improve their abilities in composition, grammar, and giving book reports.

Mr. Gates, who has a class of sophomore English, teaches speech. He instructs students in the art of speaking easily when in front of groups and has prepared many of his students to give speeches for many school assemblies.

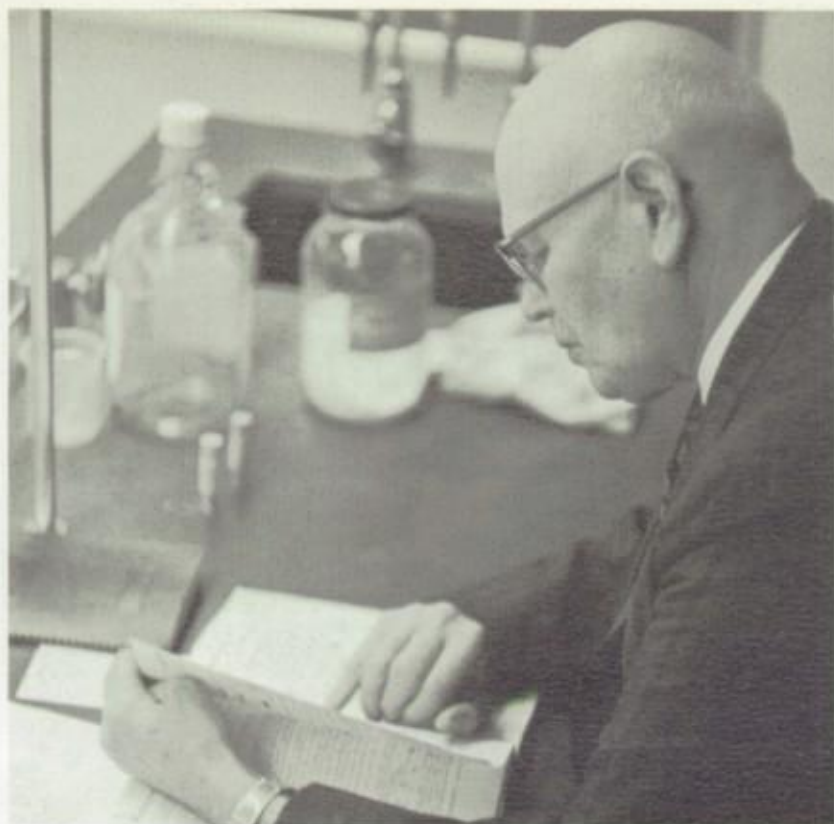

The Seniors are prepared for college by Mr. Wally Grimm. Writing themes, studying English Literature, and giving many oral presentations are stressed by Mr. Grimm.

Science Teaches Reasoning

The science courses at Bellevue Senior High School offer the needed knowledge which enables students to understand basic scientific principles.

Biology enables the students to better understand life in animal and plant form. The Sophomores are taught some of the wonders of life by Mr. Victor Dilda and Mr. Roger Sheppard. Mr. Sheppard also teaches Advanced Biology, which is comprised of Seniors.

The inorganic world is opened to the Chemistry students by Mr. Herbert Wolfe. Through him, we learn what affect chemicals have on our everyday life and the world around us.

Mr. George Woodard teaches his Physics and Physical Science students the way our lives are affected by the forces around us. He has also given his Physics students an insight into the many fields of Physics with a field trip to Chicago this year.

History Is Key to Future

History is said to be the key to the future. If this is true then the students of Bellevue will hold the key to the future.

Miss Lynn Mackey teaches the Sophomores World History. In this course she informs her students of international events of past and present which have influenced the world. She also has two classes of Government and Economics.

Mr. Joe Ayers instructs the Juniors in American History. This course deals with the development and government of the United States.

Mr. David Norwine has classes in Government and Economics, which is a semester in length, and Psychology. In Government the seniors learn the functions and requirements of our National Government. In Economics they learn about the stock market and other vital parts of our economy. In Psychology the students learn about the mind and behavior and many interesting facts about human relations and mental differences of people.

Languages Foster Communication

Learning the customs and languages of other countries will help us understand and communicate with them in the future.

Latin I and II are taught by Miss Mary Cooper. In Latin, the students learn the fundamentals of language construction. Latin is a basic language and its structure forms the base of many other languages.

Mrs. Cecile Brown teaches French I, II, and III. Also using the facilities of the language lab is Mrs. Marthella Burrows who teaches Spanish I and II.

The library is under the direction of Mrs. Elsa Wagar and Mrs. Dorothy Passarello. It has a good selection of books which the students found helpful in their various courses.

Phys. Ed. Improves Bodies and Minds

Good sportsmanship and physical fitness are developed in the Physical Education Classes of Mrs. Genevieve Pendleton and Mr. Duane Warns. Everyone is required to take four years of phys. ed. Classes are held twice a week and on every other Friday. During one semester of the junior year health is required each day.

The Intramural program set up by Mrs. Pendleton and Mr. Warns helps students to gain knowledge of different sports. Some of the sports include: touch football, softball, volleyball, whiffleball, ping pong, badminton, and fieldball.

Mathematics Stretches Minds

Mr. Earl Leatherman taught B.O.E.I. In this course the students are taught basic fundamentals of office work. This includes Typing I, Shorthand I, and office orientation. Miss Karen Wiggins then guides the students through B.O.E. II. After this course, the students are almost ready to take on secretarial jobs.

Mrs. Ann Thompson teaches Business English, Business Arithmetic, and Typing One. These courses are taken by business students.

Mr. Bruce Smith teaches Bookkeeping, and D.E. I and II. These students work half the day and attend school the other half. This prepares the student for his vocation.

Mr. John Phillips teaches geometry. This is a required course for college prep. Mr. Wilbur White teaches Algebra II and Senior Advanced Math. These courses stretch the students minds toward abstract mathematics.

Mrs. Nancy Phenicie

Mr. Paul Shelley

Mr. Joseph Brugnone

Industrial Arts Important to Future

Industrial Education is important to any student whether he is going to college or not. A student gets a knowledge of autoshop, metalshop, home economics, mechanical drawing, and blue print reading.

Mr. Joseph Brugnone teaches metalshop I, blue print reading, and shop math. Mr. Brugnone also instructs drivers education.

Mechanical drawing I and II, machine shop, and auto shop are taught by Mr. Paul Shelley.

Home economics, an important course to many Bellevue girls, is very capably instructed by Mrs. Nancy Phenicie.

Music Develops Creativity

The music department of any school is a vital part toward a well-rounded person. It gives talented students a chance to enrich their knowledge of the performing arts.

Directing the two high school bands is Mr. Robert Leckrone. A highlight of the year was when the band went to contest. In their prepared numbers the band got straight ones but got a three in sight reading, which lowered the final rating to a two. The other band received a three for their endeavors.

Mr. Richard Dundore, Sr., began his first year at Bellevue directing the a cappella choir. He also took the choir to contest at Hopewell-Louden. The choir got straight ones at the district.

The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. David Bilen, began a reconstruction of members. It meets every Tuesday at the Junior High School. Next year it hopes to be back in full swing as a high school.

Soph.'s Switch to Senior High Life

The Class of '70 entered Bellevue Senior High with an unquenchable spirit. The way that this class accomplished its transition to senior high life was due to their enthusiasm for anything and everything new. At the beginning of the year, they began to participate whole-heartedly in the activities which Bellevue regards as tradition. Soon they were competing for the Spirit Jug at assemblies by shouting their new "Sophomore" yell. Their boys formed a nucleus of good sportsmen who manned good reserve teams and who will be a credit to Bellevue's Varsity in years to come. In February, they held their class party. The highlight of the party was the pie throwing, and faculty advisors provided laughs by acting as targets. The sophomores finished out a fine year and were rewarded for their many efforts on Recognition Day.

Vocational Courses

Vocational Courses are taught at B.H.S. by Mrs. Phenicie, Mr. Schaffer, and Mr. Shelly. These courses are primarily for those students who do not intend to take further courses after graduation from high school. Some of the courses, such as home economics, prepares the student to accept the responsibility which is expected to be his upon graduation. Other courses, such as metal shop and mechanical drawing give a student enough fundamental knowledge that he will be able to qualify for a job after commencement.

Mrs. Phenicie instructs a student in the correct way to press open a seam.

Distributive Education

All of the Distributive Education classes at B.S.H.S. are taught by Mr. Bruce Smith. The purpose of the D.E. program is to be able to give students credit scholastically and also be able to give them on the job training which will be valuable to them in later years. In this program also, as the saying goes, the student is able to earn while he learns. The students are given jobs which lie within their interest field and within their capabilities and which get more complex as they learn.

Business Classes

Miss Wiggins, Mrs. Thompson, Mr. Leatherman, are some of the teachers of business courses. These courses are primarily designed for those students who intend to go into secretarial work upon completion of high school. B.O.E. classes which offer actual office experience are available as well as the standards such as typing, shorthand, business law, etc. Many students are able to find work from the experience gained through these classes while others go on to a professional secretarial or office training school.

College Preparatory

A student who intends to take further instruction in his or her chosen field often takes the battery of college preparatory courses. These curriculums are usually made up of five basic categories with anywhere from two to four years in each. The five categories are: foreign language, science, social studies, math, and English. Almost all students who elect to take this program go on to college, nurse's training, computer schools, or other forms of higher education. All together, Bellevue High School offers approximately 28 credits within the college preparatory course.

Queen Brenda and Her Court

Queen Brenda and her four gracious attendants reigned over this traditional Homecoming Dance, which followed the victorious October 6, Bellevue-Norwalk game. The dance was sponsored by the B.S.H.S. Student Council and was held in the school cafeteria which had been decorated with football motifs. Co-captains, Jim McCarthy and Mike Goodsite shared the first dance with the Queen, after which the couples enjoyed dancing. Approximately 150 couples attended the annual dance and participated in the Homecoming Festivities.

Highlight Evening

As attendants and Queen stepped from their cars, driven by junior class boys, they were met by their escorts. Sophomore attendant, Pat Paul and Junior attendant, Jeannie Tea were the first to arrive and they were greeted by Cliff Hime and Mark Degler respectively. Next to make their appearances were Senior attendants. Deb Haigh was greeted by Larry Meyers and Patti Neill was met by her escort, Kirk Horn. Following the attendants were flower girl, Richelle Hansen and crown bearer, David Racquet, first grade students at Ridge School. As the loud-speaker heralded her arrival, Queen Brenda Ballew stepped from the car and proceeded to the field with escort Bob Haffey. Jan TerVeen, President of the Senior Class, conducted the traditional Homecoming Coronation Ceremony.

Flowers were carried by Richelle Hansen and crown bearer was David Racquet. 150 couples enjoyed dancing.

Many couples danced to the music of the Ron Phenicie Trio at the Christmas formal held in the high school cafeteria.

What a "Heavenly Christmas"

The Christmas Season at Bellevue Senior High School got off to a "heavenly" start on December 16th for about 150 couples at the annual Christmas Dance. The theme of the dance was "Heavenly Christmas" and the theme was carried out with displays of celestial bodies against blue background lighting. Stars and angels as well as other signs of Christmas adorned the lobby and cafeteria of B.S.H.S. A huge and twinkling silver star hung from the center of the ceiling and glittered through the night as couples danced to the music of The Ron Phenicie Trio.

The highlight of the evening arrived during the intermission. Mary Galbraith, president of the B.G.C.A. and acting as mistress of ceremonies, announced and crowned the King and Queen of Goodwill. The honors went to Jan TerVeen and Lois Reffner, respectively. After the coronation, the Grimorior Chorale directed by Wally Grimm provided delightful entertainment for the couples while refreshments were served.

ALOHA Was Theme of Jr.-Sr. Prom

The class of '69 finished a very successful year by designing a unique and beautiful setting for this year's Junior-Senior Prom. The dance was held on April 27, with couples dancing from nine till twelve o'clock. This year's theme "ALOHA" was presented by Janet Bertsch who directed the designing and construction of the prom's decorations. The outer hall was transformed into a tropical island where "ALOHA" was spelled out with colorful flowers. The junior high gym became an enchanting paradise with multi-colored streamers suspended from the ceiling.

During intermission the queens were crowned by the presidents of the respective classes. Jeff McClain, Junior Class President, crowned the Senior Queen, Vicki McDonough, while Senior Class President, Jan TerVeen, crowned the Junior Queen, LeRose Lodge. At this time refreshments were served to the couples by the sophomore class. The seniors, led by Terri Gilbert, sang their class song which was composed to the tune of "Without a Song." The unforgettable evening was ended with dancing, and then each couple left to dine and attend early morning breakfasts.

SCHOOL LIFE

Student Council Worked Hard

The Student Council serves an important service at Bellevue Senior High Schools. It provides a link between the faculty and the students and makes communication easier for everyone. The delegates and alternates to the council are chosen each spring by members of their respective classes and the number is relative to the number of students in each class.

During the '67-'68 year, the Student Council provided many important services to the school and the community. For the school, it sponsored the traditional dance after the Homecoming Game. For the community it sponsored a Safety Car Check in which the help of the local police was solicited to make sure that all cars checked were functionally safe.

President of the Council, John Archer, had many special functions. Besides presiding over the meetings, he also led the school body in the Pledge at each assembly. With the help of advisor David Norwine, he helped to plan the meetings.

Certainly the Student Council at Bellevue serves a special and very needed service.

N. H. S. Inducts Top Students

On May 6, the National Honor Society of the Alfred Ross Chapter held its surprise initiation for 41 new members. York and Thompson students were brought to the high school so that they also could participate in the ceremony. The old members conducted the impressive candlelight service, which is to honor those students who have excelled in all commendable aspects. Membership is restricted to juniors and seniors and is based on a person's excellence in the fields of character, scholarship, leadership, and service. Mr. Cress, the society's sponsor, administered the pledge to the honor society members of York, Thompson, and Bellevue High Schools.

In order to be accepted, the juniors must have a 90% average for their first two and one half years of high school, and the seniors are required to be at least in the upper third of their class. There are more seniors admitted each year due to the fact that fifteen percent of the senior class can be chosen, but the juniors are allowed only five percent.

This year from B.H.S., eighteen new members of the senior class and ten of the junior class were inducted into the Honor Society.

Comet Staff Expend Effort

The Business Staff of the Comet worked long and diligent hours to produce the necessary funds required by the yearbook. Its efficient assistance gave the executive members more time in which to spend on the editing of the Comet. Both the Business and Executive Staffs worked together selling Booster Patron ads and Professional Booster ads. These students, canvassed the whole town, door to door, and succeeded in giving this year's Comet the best advertising campaign and the best budget ever. Due to the determination of this staff, the Comet was able to have colored pictures as well as more pages. The Executive and Business Staffs, consisting of approximately forty students, worked under the direction of Patti Neill, the '68 Editor-in-Chief.

Quill and Scroll is Ultimate Goal

The Dial, the school newspaper, comes out once a month. The Dial, is produced by the students taking journalism and each month a different student takes over the duties of editor. Each time there is a different staff which has led to the paper's variety of content. Paul Sackett is the advisor for the Dial.

The Quill and Scroll, honorary organization made up of members of both the Dial and Comet Staffs, inducted six new members this year. To be eligible, a student must have a 90 percent average and have worked extensively on a school publication.

Barnstormers Become Part of B.S.H.S.

This year for the first time at Bellevue Senior High School, a dramatics club was in existence. This club was formed during second semester with Mr. Gates and Mr. Grimm as advisors. The students who were interested in either being on stage or in working behind the scenes were invited to join. The response was amazing—nearly 170 students responded.

Later, the club met again and voted on their name—the B.H.S. Barnstormers.

Thespians is the goal of all dramatic club members. The membership is granted to those persons who have expended great amounts of time and talent in support of the dramatic arts. The Barnstormers presented their first production, "Bye, Bye Birdie," on May 17 and 18.

A Cappella Choir

A Cappella Choir Receives 3 I's

The A Cappella Choir had an active year in spite of the absence of a choir director in the fall. During this time two high school students, Jane Seaman and Larry Meyers, took over the responsibilities of a director. The choir even with this handicap pulled through due the determination of its members. In November, Mr. Richard Dundore became a part-time director for the high school and took over the duties of a director. Again this year the choir presented the annual Christmas Concert and Christmas Assembly, which were successfully received. Later in the year, the members presented their Spring Concert, participated in the N.O.L. Choral Festival, and went to contests. The choir was given a I (Superior) rating. Thanks to the caliber of the students themselves, this year was a great success.

The Sophomore Choir began this school year without a director. Since they had no director to help them further their singing abilities, Senior Larry Meyers was asked to take charge. With Larry conducting, they strived to be the best success possible. Naturally, this choir had to put forth a lot more effort and drive, but the members proved themselves worthy of the faith placed in them by the school officials. They presented a portion of the annual Christmas Concert, participated in the school assembly at Easter, and sang in the Spring Concert. The choir officers led their classmates successfully through one of the roughest years, musically speaking, in the history of Bellevue. This fact alone shows the fine quality of students who participated in this year's Sophomore Choir.

Bands Increase in Size and Number

The Bellevue Senior High School Band had such a successful and rapidly increasing program that this year it was separated into two bands, a symphonic and a concert.

Under the direction of Robert Leckrone, the bands presented many enjoyable half-time shows during the football season. The bands also traveled to Avon Lake and were presented a trophy for participating in the band-o-rama. In this program, Bellevue along with other schools presented programs consisting entirely of half-time shows. During the basketball season, the pep band directed by President Lynn Zechman, played at all home games.

In March, Mr. Leckrone was able to have the Ohio State Concert Band play a concert in Bellevue. After the concert, the Ohio State Band members spent the night with members of Bellevue's bands and choir. The symphonic band suffered a terrible downfall this year at contest. After receiving three superior ratings in their prepared numbers, they received a good rating in their sight reading number, which brought the final rating down to an excellent or II. The concert band received a III rating. In addition to the two bands, Mr. Leckrone directs the dance band. This year the dance band, named "The Chieftains", is made up of members from Junior and Senior High School bands. The dance band played for many occasions throughout the year, including programs for the Rotary, Kiwanis, and Jaycees.

Majorettes Lead B.S.H.S. Bands

At the beginning of each football game, amid a fanfare of trumpets, seven young ladies strutted to the front of the Bellevue Senior High School Band. Led by senior Janice Case, the majorettes learned new routines for each half-time presentation. Sometimes featuring pom poms, fire batons, or hoops, they always entertained the fans and received enthusiastic acclaim.

When the marching bands donned their concert uniforms, the majorettes again refreshed their skills on their respective instruments. When basketball season approached, they again began to twirl their batons for the entertainment of fans during half-time shows. When they were enthusiastically received as always, much of their time went into devising new routines.

The majorette squad was composed of seven girls. They were Head Janice Case, Diane Helber, Cindy Newberger, Diane Sherman, Roxanne Weilnau, Angie Wenner, and Pat White.

Orchestra Displays Determination

The Bellevue Senior High School Orchestra did a fine job this year with Mr. Bilen as conductor. This orchestra displayed much hard work and determination during the year, and their talent did not go completely unnoticed. They performed at school assemblies, and they accompanied the proceedings at the ceremony of the National Honor Society. They also rendered a striking performance at the Christmas and Spring concerts.

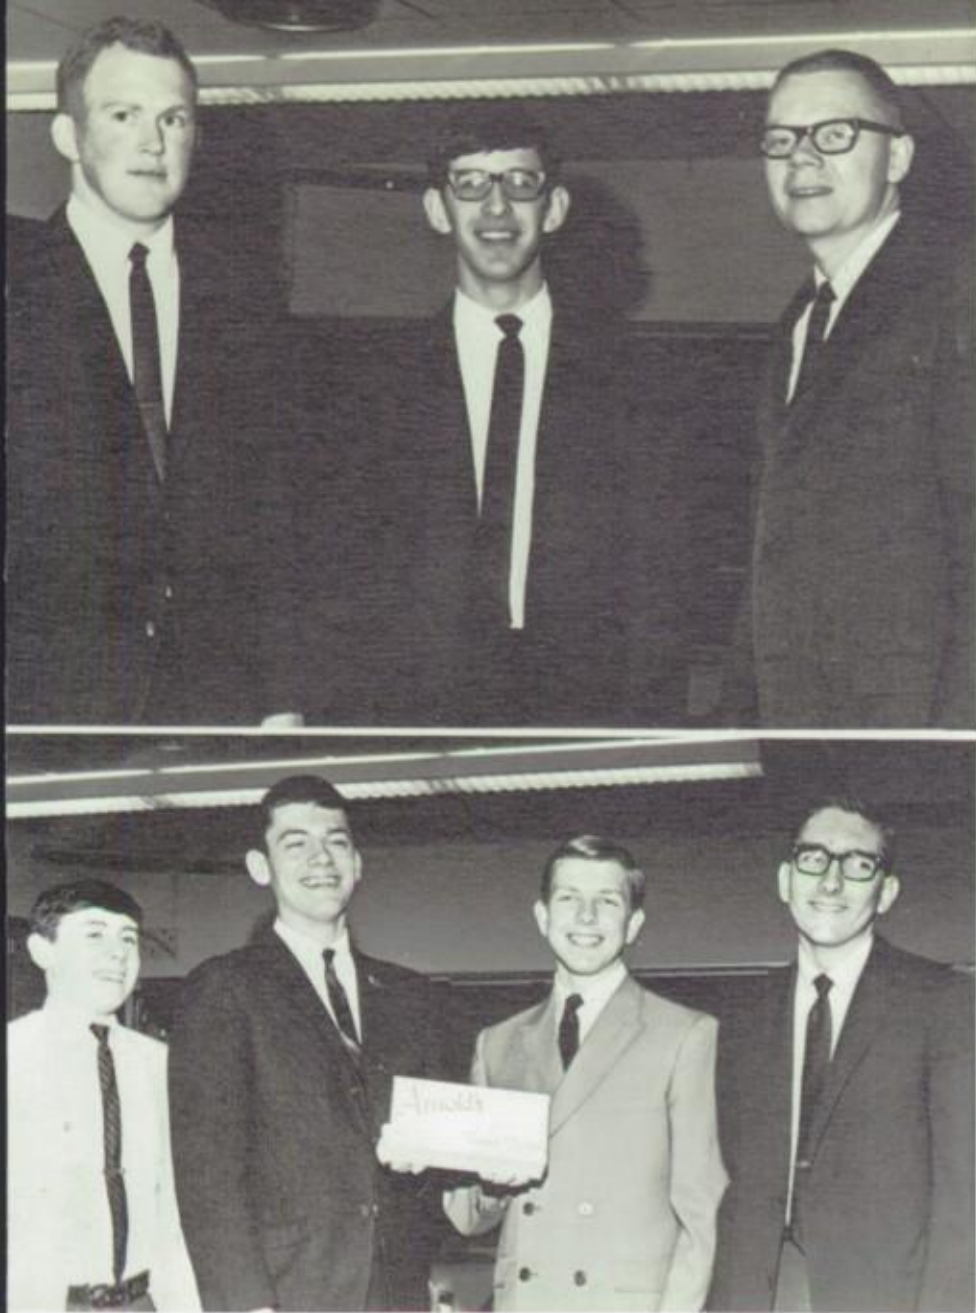

Ken Martin, an outstanding member of the orchestra, acted as this year's concert master. With the cooperation of the entire membership, a great success can be scored for this year's Bellevue orchestra.

Hi-Y Offers Fellowship

The Hi-Y of Bellevue Senior High School is an active Christian organization. This club is sponsored by the Y.M.C.A. and uses its principles as basic guidelines for its ideals. The members meet once every two weeks for a meeting which features a speaker, a film, or a discussion. Several times they combined with the B.G.C.A. to enjoy a play day. The Hi-Y members perform services for the school. For instance its members held the guide ropes during intermission at every home basketball game. Ken Didion, President, was in charge of the club this year with the assistance of advisors Mr. Wilbur White and Mr. George Woodard.

B.G.C.A. Has Active Year

Bellevue Girl's Christian Association started this year's activities with an initiation for all new members. Each girl was sent through an outside obstacle course. Initiates raced on tricycles, crawled through boxes, and toppled on stilts. Later, quickie skits added to the hilarious procedures of the evening.

The club's biggest project for the year proved to be the Christmas Dance. Plans for this became the most important part of each meeting. As the girls designed angels, strung tinsel, and hung sparkling stars, each B.G.C.A. member had the chance to participate in making decorations. "Heavenly Christmas" on May 17, was truly a heavenly experience for each couple present.

Mary Galbraith, president of B.G.C.A., presided over each bi-weekly meeting. LeRose Lodge, vice-president of B.G.C.A., became chairman of the Sadie Hawkins-Day Dance. Decorations for this event were designed by the B.G.C.A. juniors. Everyone attending the hillbilly bash was dressed in wild and crazy costumes depicting the theme. Due to popular demand "Marrin' Sam" returned this year and drew an even better line of interested couples. VerLea Frederick and Randy Santoro won first prize for being dressed in the most original costumes.

A special meeting was held with the York and Thompson girls interested in joining the club next year. Volleyball was a good ice-breaker and proved a lot of fun for everyone.

Ending the year's activities were two combined meetings of the B.G.C.A. and Hi-Y. Members enjoyed volleyball, basketball, ping pong, and tumbling during these play nights at the high school gym.

As a last farewell for the seniors, there was the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet and the senior farewell picnic. Both events were taken charge of by the B.G.C.A. juniors and sophomores in appreciation to the seniors for making the year such a fine success.

F.T.A. Fulfills Demand

The Future Teachers of America have gained added experience and knowledge this year because of a greater demand for their services. Elementary teachers aided the club by asking for F.T.A. members instead of substitutes to take over during a teacher's absence. President Pat Close led the club's activities with the help of advisors Mrs. Ann Miller and Miss Lynn Mackey. Any interested high school student considering teaching as a career finds F.T.A. very worthwhile. Each F.T.A. member has at least one chance a year to teach in a classroom. This is an opportunity for the student to teach in the elementary and secondary schools under the supervision of a classroom teacher. The year's program included a tureen dinner, a Mother-Daughter Tea, and various speakers for regular meetings.

Experience Gained Through F.H.A.

The Future Homemakers of America is made up of sophomore, junior, and senior girls who are interested in gaining experience in the field of home economics. President this year was Agnes Weidinger who lead the club with the help and guidance of advisor Mrs. Nancy Phenicie. Since each member must have taken at least one class in home economics, all of the girls have experience which helps them to participate in the various activities which the club offers. Some of the highlights of the year were The Big and Little Sister Party in September at which time all new members were welcomed, the Foreign Dish Dinner in November, and in April the annual Convention at Columbus. In May, there was the Mother-Daughter Banquet, the Style Show, entitled 69th Street Fashions, and the Senior Farewell Party.

The National Athletic Scholarship Society each year chooses boys who have excelled in both scholarship and sports. This honor can only be attained by those students having a major letter in one of the six sports and a 'B' average for two consecutive semesters. The '67-68' elected members are John Archer, Pat Collins, Mark Degler, Charles DeLuca, Jack Evert, Charles Ford, Dave Griffith, John Hasselbach, Steve Krinke, Tom Kuhn, Jim McCarthy, Jeff McClain, Tom Nation, Bob Oddo, Mark Rogge, Frank Sberna, Joe Sberna, Nelson Seip, Tom Sweigard, Craig Stoldt, Jan TerVeen, Harold Lee, and Terry Shannon.

W.A.S.S. Offers Great Honors

Math Club Offers

The Math Club, which was headed this year by Jim Sanders as President, offers experience in areas of math other than those which are commonly covered in mathematics classes. Each member presented a meeting and then took turns discussing topics of math puzzles which are of interest to each student. Advisors to the club are the mathematics teachers at the senior high, Mr. John Phillips and Mr. Wilbur White. The other officers who helped to guide the club in its activities were: Chuck DeLuca, Vice-President; Mary Cloud, Secretary; Jan TerVeen, Treasurer; Bob Steinke, News Reporter; Travis Risner, Program Chairman.

Club Provides Useful Function

The Library Club headed by Dianne Burrows had a profitable and rewarding year. The members worked in the library two periods a week as student librarians and taught the other pupils in the school to make use of the library and its facilities. The advisors to the club, Mrs. Wagar and Mrs. Passarello taught the club members the fundamentals of library work.

The club met during activity periods and made use of the time to benefit the library. Then, during their evening meetings, they had social gatherings with special speakers. One of the highlights of the year came when initiation was held on February 12, and new members were inducted.

Among the duties of the members were cataloging new books, manning the desk, keeping the general order in the library, and helping other students. Besides providing a very much needed service to the school, the club provided a fine social club.

D.E.C.A. Works Hard

D.E.C.A. Club has become a very important part of our school system this year. D.E.C.A., or the Distributive Education Club of America, is made up of a number of hard-working students who receive on-the-job-training for future occupations. These conscientious pupils meet for two morning periods of special distributive education classes, along with their other academic subjects, and then they spend their afternoon hours at their occupations at which they are receiving training.

Under the guidance of Mr. Bruce Smith, the D.E.C.A. Club has progressed and advanced. Officers of the club include: Joe Dysard, president; Randy Santoro, vice-president; Mary Panfalone, secretary; Tom Raifsnider, treasurer. The members of this club receive not only training in the skills of their occupations, but lessons in good salesmanship and courtesy as well.

Business Club Stimulates Interest

The Bellevue Business Club is a comparatively new organization at Bellevue Senior High School, and it consists of students who have earned at least three units of credit in business courses. The purpose of this club is to stimulate students into an active interest in business, and to provide them knowledge which will be useful to them in their future careers.

Karen Schindley presided over the interesting and informative Business Club meetings, and she was assisted by the club advisors, Miss Wiggins and Mr. Leatherman. The other officers include: Cyndee Raschke, vice-president; Bonnie Silcox, secretary; Bruce Tornichio, treasurer.

G.A.A. Strengthens Bodies and Minds

The Girls' Athletic Association is an organization which includes girls who have earned 80 points or more by participating in the intramural program offered at our high school. As a girl engages in the sports activities which are available, her number of points increases. When a girl collects 250 points, she receives a G.A.A. letter; a pin is awarded to those lucky girls who have received a total of 400 points as a sum of all her intramural involvement. The senior girl who has received the highest total of points for her four years of activity in intramurals is recognized and awarded on Recognition Day.

The G.A.A. this year was under the guidance and supervision of Mrs. Pendleton. Vicki McDonough was the able president of the organization. Other officers include Aggie Weidinger, who serves as vice-president; Katie Andrews, secretary; and Marsha Leonard, treasurer. These girls were elected by the present organization members.

Among the outstanding activities of this year's G.A.A. were three playdays. These included not only our own G.A.A. members, but also those from other schools. The first was held at our school during November, when we hosted Thompson, York, and Clyde. Then in January, we were the guests of Clyde High School. Finally in May we were the guests of York High School's G.A.A. Club.

Art Club members are kept busy doing different projects.

Art Club Displays Talent

The members of the Art Club had a busy year. They made posters for the passage of the school bond issue, the senior play, Kiwanis pancake supper and sports banquet. They painted Halloween scenes on the store windows, a mural for the Pep Club, a large figure for the football banquet, and two backdrops for the music department.

The purpose of the Art Club is twofold: To serve the school and the community through art and to further the individual students' expression and appreciation of art. Membership is open to all students in grades 9 through 12.

A guest speaker, films and individual projects completed the activities for the year. Paulette Daniel, president; Charlene Eckelberry, vice-president; Terry Robertson, secretary; and Thomas Burnett, treasurer were officers of this year's Art Club.

"The Lottery," directed by Wally Grimm and student director, Dianne Bogner was a great success. Technical director Ken Dideon constructed several ramps and a special stage which were used to great advantage. Assistant producer was Barb Kosman, who with the help of the committees, helped to make the drama a success. "The Lottery" was written by Shirley Jackson and Mr. Grimm made certain adaptations. It was supposedly set in Bellevue, Ohio, and pointed out the tendency of today's society to use a scape-goat to relieve guilt feelings.

First Musical Is Hit

The musical comedy Bye, Bye Birdie was presented on May 17th and 18th by the B.H.S. Barnstormers. This, the first musical to be presented in Bellevue, was a great success. Since this was the first offering of the Barnstormers, it also helped to prove their worth. "Birdie" was the story of Albert Peterson, played by Mark Degler, who manages to break free of mama's (Diane Helber) control to marry his devoted secretary (Sue Ricci). This transformation takes place when Conrad Birdie (Tom Smith) a famous singing star visits Sweet Apple, Ohio, and causes a sensation.

J.V.'s Gain Valuable Experience

The Redmen Junior Varsity had a creditable season. Though they ended the season with a 4—4 record, the effort that these boys expended made them champs in the eyes of Bellevuans. They started their season with an upset against Port Clinton but rallied for the next game and emerged with a victory over Norwalk. They stayed on the victory road for their next two games with Perkins and Tiffin Columbian but then broke their winning streak with a defeat at the hands of the Norwalk Truckers. The J.V.'s won again when they beat Galion but then bowed to defeat for their last two games, those against Shelby and Willard. The experience gained by these boys promises winning team records for future varsity years.

Varsity Expend Much Effort

With a final record of 10 wins and 8 losses, the Redmen found themselves in third place in the Northern Ohio League Standings. Only fourteen of their games were league games and of these, they won seven and lost seven. The team displayed fine effort and determination in their games, and never seemed to dismay when the scoreboard showed their opponent's favor. They always played to win and partially as a result of their efforts, even when behind, they moved into tournament season with a fine spirit. They won their first tournament game over the Port Clinton Redskins with a score of 71—53. At their next tourney game, they cruised the Perkins Pirates by a score of 78—43. This victory in the Sectional Tournament entitled them to move on to the Super-Sectional Tournament, where they played the Ashland Arrows. Here, the Redmen bowed to defeat with a score of 50—42. Though this defeat signified the end of basketball season for the local team, the memories of a fine season and an even finer team will live on in fans' minds.

Reserves Show Great Promise

The local Reserve Basketball team had a real good 1 season. They claimed a final record of 15 wins and 3 losses. Of these, in league games their record was 12—2. This team afforded the fans many thrills this year during many hard-fought games. In their first contest against the Shelby Whippets, they even had to go into overtime but managed to achieve a victory to the tune of 47—43. Another triumph of the reserves, coached by Sam Schubert, was their record of winning nine games in a row. These boys show promise for varsity teams. With the experience they have gained they'll be manning great varsity teams in the future.

Cheerleaders Provide Leadership

Cheerleaders at Bellevue work long hours devising new ways to spark enthusiasm and keep spirit high. The five Varsity Cheerleaders were Verlea Frederick, head; Becky Butz, Gina Oddo, Sue Ricci, and Jane Seaman. At each football and basketball game the girls were down in front and leading the student body in cheers. Each afternoon before a game, there was a Pep Assembly. During this assembly, the Reserve and Varsity Cheerleaders worked to drum up enthusiasm for the coming game.

The Reserve Cheerleaders consisted of Jane Chapman, Pat Paul, and Joann Straziouso. These girls traveled to all Junior Varsity games to provide leadership in yells and boosts in morale. During Pep Assemblies, they combined with the Varsity Cheerleaders to lead the school in the traditional yells.

Pep Club Fosters Spirit

The Varsity Cheerleaders were led this year by VerLea Frederick. She and the other four girls (Jane Seaman, Becky Butz, Gina Oddo, and Sue Ricci) did much to keep the spirit of both team and fans high. At every pep assembly, varsity football, or basketball game they worked to keep the team working. Another of their projects this year was the Pep Club. This club consisted of about 100 girls. They rehearsed each week before the games to learn new cheers and so support the teams. During basketball season, they donned a uniform consisting of a white turtleneck sweater, red skirt, and "B". To the cheerleaders and these girls go praises of the team, and fans alike, for boosting school spirit.

Wrestling Team Breaks Even

The Wrestling team, under the fine coaching of Mr. Bailey, Mr. Gates, and Mr. Smith, ended up with a season record of five wins, five losses, and one tie. The co-captains this year were Chuck DeLuca and Dick Lopeman.

Highlights of the season were the Milan Invitational Tournament and the Sectional, District, and State tournaments. In the Milan Tournament, the team placed fifth. Jim Redd won in the 145 pound class. Five of our boys, Chuck DeLuca, Tom Ray, Jim Redd, Ted Schreck, and Frank Sberna won in the sectionals and advanced to district competition.

Chuck DeLuca was the only one from Bellevue to place in the district. He was third in his class and advanced to State where he won one of his three matches. Chuck was the wrestler who gained the most points for the team this year.

Track Team Runs in New Stadium

The B.H.S. track team started the 1968 season in our new stadium which added to their efforts to excel. Although they did not have a winning season, the boys worked very hard and came up with several individual wins. Also, a new school record of 1:34.3 was set by the half mile relay team of Jim Hammersmith, Jim McCarthy, Bob Paul, and Tom Nation in the N.O.L. meet.

The team's outstanding meet this year was with Bucyrus, in which we tromped them 79—48. In the half mile relay race, the Bellevue fans saw the most exciting run of the season. We were several lengths behind going into the last lap when Tom Nation took over and ate up ground to pull ahead in the final strides and score a win.

Under the excellent guidance of Coaches Schubert and Warns, the team worked very hard this year and gained valuable experience. They placed fifth in the Bucyrus Relays and sixth in the N.O.L. meet. The highlight of the season was the Sectional at Sandusky which ended the season.

Tennis Team Has Fine Season

The tennis team this year had a real fine season with four returning lettermen leading them on to victory. Our team this year kept up Bellevue's reputation of having good tennis teams.

Bob Haffey and John Archer were the number one doubles team this year and conquered almost all of their opponents. Jude Loudenslagel and Dave Kistler, and Jack Evert and Tom Kuhn also played very well as doubles teams.

Joe DeLuca was the tennis teams number one singles man this year, and has done a tremendous job. Other top singles players were John Archer, Bob Haffey, Nelson Seip, Steve Krinke, and Tom Kuhn.

Mr. Sackett has done an excellent job of coaching these boys, and he can certainly be proud of this team.

B.H.S. Had Greatest Golf Team in 1968

Under the direction of a new coach, Mr. Hershey, the golf team had a very impressive season. They were very consistent and won almost all of their matches. This has been one of the best seasons of golf that B.H.S. has ever had.

There were three returning lettermen this year who were the background for the golf team. They supplied the experience necessary to support the team's confidence. The team constantly improved as the season went by.

Coach Hershey did a good job training these boys, as can be seen by their record. Next year should see an even better season.

MARCHING ALONG TOGETHER

Over the years, Bellevue High School bands have treated the community to top-notch musical entertainment. This year's band, featuring the talents of the group shown above, has added further luster to this fine tradition.

We share this community's pride in the school and its student body, both past and present. Its record of achievement is one in which we all take pride. Our congratulations and sincere wishes for continued success.

General Electric is proud to be part of this community and to do all it can to participate fully in its progress. And, taking a "cue" from the band, only by marching along . . . or working . . . together can all of use continue to make progress and build a better future for Bellevue!

Central Soya

... the growing name in FOODPOWER

Central Soya

... the growing name in FOODPOWER

No. You won't find the Central Soya mark on your ham and eggs, chops, roasts, hot dogs, butter or milk. But, chances are, the "critters" that provide these and other food products were raised on Master Mix feeds and concentrates. We say "chances are" because our Feed Division makes and sells substantially more than a million tons of animal feeds each year through more than 2,500 Master Mix dealers.

Not only that. Your margarine, mayonnaise and salad oil aren't marked either, but most of them contain nutritious soybean oil produced (along with high protein meals) by our Soya Division. Annual capacity, nearly 80 million bushels of beans. Processed meats, candy, baked goods, even baby foods, look and taste better, stay fresher, thanks to special soy products of our Chemurgy Division. Feed and food grains are merchandised from major production to major consumption regions by our Grain Division. And our international people parlez vous soybeans in five languages.

Next time you slice into a thick steak, or sneak an extra large piece of danish, remember the role being played by Central Soya.
